

Philip Perkins - social studies
3.24.20

1. Biddy Mason used to her money for people in need by giving to African American and white churches.
2. Members of congress were worried for California being a state because the country was divided over the issue of slavery.
3. Henry Clay worked with a man named Stephen Douglas to make

California a free state and keep everyone
happy.

4. The fugitive act says that every U.S. citizen had to help catch fugitive slaves who ran away. This act made slave states happy.

5. The reactions of California to the issue
of slavery was, nervous, worried, scared, and afraid.